

How do I renew my library card?

 Your favorite Columbia Libraries (MCL) card expires every two years, but renewing your library card is quick and easy. Please take a moment to renew your card to continue accessing our collections and services.

In Person or By Phone

Visit the front desk or call any MCL branch, and our staff will be happy to help you update your account information by answering a few simple questions. Find your local branch information here.

Online

You may also contact us here to update your account online. Please include the following in your message:

- your name,
- your birthdate,
- your address and phone number,
- your preferred MCL branch, and
- your preferred notification preference (email, text, or phone call).

If you need a replacement card please visit the branch with photo ID to complete renewal.
