Log in to your Mid-Columbia Library account from home to view your borrowed items, request items, update your information and much more.

1. On the Mid-Columbia Libraries home page, find the "My Account" link at the top of the screen. Move the mouse over this link or click it to access account login fields.
2. Type in the library account number, found on the back of your library card, without spaces, and your password, created by the cardholder with the account.

If you cannot remember your password, you may choose to have your password emailed to you by selecting the "Forgot Password" link.
